The announced workshop is organized as part of short course in conjunction with ECASIA2024, European Conference on Applications of Surface and Interface Analysis, held in Gothenburg on 9-14 June, 2024. This conference brings top scientists and practitioners together with common framework of driving the applications of surface interface analysis forward in fields of metallurgy, energy materials, biomaterials, technique development, data analysis, depth profiling, nanomaterials and imaging, corrosion, ceramics, etc.

The conference is hosted by Chalmers University of Technology in co-operation with European Association of Application of Surface and Interface Analysis.

With questions or concerns, please contact: Jonas Baltrusaitis
